The Graduate School of Education
UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS LOWELL
Two Faculty Positions

Located 25 miles north of Boston, the UMass Lowell Graduate School of Education is a vibrant site for teaching and learning. The school is NCATE accredited and is noted for its strength in post baccalaureate teacher preparation as well as doctoral programs in math and science education, leadership in schooling, and language arts and literacy. Working in close partnership with PK-12 schools in the region, the Graduate School of Education is dedicated to transforming and improving the quality of education for students of all ages. Applicants are sought for two tenure track faculty positions in each of two program areas.

Leadership in Schooling

1. Leadership – requires a doctorate in educational leadership or related field; teaching experience at the graduate level; record of research, grants, and publications; administrative experience with PK-12, preferably as an urban principal or superintendent; expertise in applications of new technologies and understanding of diverse student backgrounds.

2. Research – requires a doctorate in educational research or related field; teaching experience at the graduate level; record of research, grants and publications; expertise in quantitative methods of research, including quantitative methods of research, including survey analysis, statistics, research design, assessment and evaluation; ability to develop and teach course online;

Rank and Salary – commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Application Procedure: Screening of applications has begun and will continue until the positions are filled. Appointments are subject to funding.

Applicants should send a letter of interest, vitae, copies of two recent publications, and the names of three references.

Leadership in Schooling to:

Patricia G. Anthony, Ph.D.
Graduate School of Education
University of Massachusetts Lowell
510 O’Leary Library
61 Wilder Street
Lowell, MA 01854
Patricia_Anthony@uml.edu

UMass Lowell is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action, Title IX, H/V, ADA Employer. Women and persons of color are encouraged to apply.

Website: http://gse.uml.edu/